BETTER TIMES-THE OUTLOOK.

DECATUR, INTANOUS, FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1878.

The last number of the International Review contains a paper on Industrial reconstruction by Mr. Edward Atkinson of Massachusetts. There are few per sons in this country better able to write on such a subject than Mr Atkinson, and any opinion he may express in regand to may industrial future correct with it no little weight of authority ---As far back in TROM, saidingson in 1869, he warned the commtry of the enormous lossen that would be sustained by the business community when the reaction from high prices set in, and before the edistribution of labor, disorganized by the war, could be perfected. All that he predicted then of the consequences of inflation and of over production has since come to pass. It will tend to comfort those, therefore, who are still disdosed to be despondent over the condition of business to learn that Mr. Atkinson, after a careful survey of the industrial field, holds that the hunt of the full in prices has been reached and that with the practical disappearance of the so called premium on gold our nor mal relations with the world are about restored, and we may look forward with entidence to renewed prosperity at novery distant day Referring to our exports and their enormous increase of late, he points out that the great volhume of them consists of articles of prime accordity to foreign people. Our corn and meat. Europe until have or suffer from want, our cotton she most buy, or her operatives must be idle and her commerce crippled, our petroleum our fumber, our leather are articles of common need, not of luxury, and many of our goods and wares command the markets of the world. He contends that the waste of war was not wholly waste, that a good deal of the money expended was used in the improvement of farms, in constraining radioads and were also made in manufacturing and prechame arts and in labor saving machines, atimulating, many of them, by the needs of war and the madequate unular of operatives and working people while the war lasted. The conse-America was that when the troops were disbanded and the men returned to their homes, as well as numbers of persons who were thrown out of work by the cessation of the war, they were forced to seck new occupations in new places. This work of the redistribution of labor, rendered more deficult by the panic of 1973 the multitude of failures (that followed and the locking up of capital has been necessarily alon, for, from the causes mentioned, an industrial revolution has occurred not only at the Bouth, but at the West and North as well-When after 1873, the culmination of our business troubles came, the true remedy for them also became apparent It then became evident there could be no complete restoration of prosperity until the surplus labor population should be redistribuled between city and country, between warehouse and workshop between fliotory and held, between mill and mine, under normal conditions of peace. This redistribution, Mr. Atkin. ion states, "is proceeding most unuity at the South next at the West, and least rapidly at the East, because it is more difficult for the artisan and the operative to change his or her occupition than it is for men to have been employed in outdoor labor either of the the more or the forest." Bouth, he holds, has the best opportunity to adjust itself to the new consti-tutions, "because its change is from the real peace and prosperity, now for the first time attainable. Hence the changes good If we have too much cutton, corn, coul goods, wares and merchan dise too many houses, railroads, nines and factories -all these are capital, and although the accumulation does not jet benehi every one, yet from thus accumulation has come the seeking for new sources of demand and the effort to increase consumption. The abundance of money weking insertment is emply a mass of loanglife capital which will be brought into active use' with a renewal of confidence in the future progress of the nation and a just and righteous standard of value Atkinson believes in the wonderful re emperative power of the country, and in the forces now openly or sileatly at work to develop it. He believes also in the ability of the people to correct unwise legislation, and in their ability,

Promptly at half-past twelve the companies forming the fire department formed on the old square, and, escorted by the Grenadiers under Cupt. Zeiss, and a detachment of the Guards under command of | Lieut, Rusped; topic up the inc sof second led the fur ground Linuary to general expectation the attenuance here was quite large, the amphitheater being well filled, while many people were scattered over the grounds seeking amusement in their own way. The programme of exercises, while quite lengthy, had in it enough of variety to please everybody, of botable norribles paraded the streets and a better satisfied crowd as not often seon then was that at the fair ground year usual fastastic contumes; while the sirects feeder.

The fun began with a game of base ball between the Decatur Browns and a picked nine. Five innings were played when the game was called, the score standing 8 to 4. in favor of the Browns.

A prize exercise on the horizontal and parallel bars learne next, the contestants baine Benith, Rebtt and Domning. Bin judges awarded the first prize to Brett and the second to Smith.

A foot race of 200 yards was a most in teresting feature of the day. Five young athletes entered for the contest. Fred Litterer, O. Reed, E. Troutman, P. Nelson and C. Winebrenner. The race was a breaner and the second to K. Trontman.

The greased pole had been erected and Ulfrich's finest strawberry hams, which joking. was to be given to the one who first climbed the pole and placed his hand on to the Black Hilly. the "fint." Some twenty or more men and bays made the attempt, some of them shoost reaching the top before losing their grip and sliding to the ground. Each attempt and failure was greeted with the most uproarious cheers from the crowd, and when Fred. Litterer finally reaches the top and wrenched the coveted prize from its fastenings, the audience went nearly wild with enthusiasm.

A sack race of 50 yards, in which there were six entries, was the next feature. and it affinded great ampsement to see the six boys hopping along, enveloped in burlde meks. Rong min und then bue would full down, and roll a yard or two. and if he possessed dexterity enough to get up and go on again he would be greet. ed with cheers, but usually he would struggle a few seconds in a futile attempt to regain his feet, and then give it up. E. Boone was declared the winner time,

Then came the mule race a simple bulf mile dash in which there were three entries, Betsey, Black Jack and Harkaway. The race was a highly exciting one, and was easily won by Betsey, owned by John Maloy; time 1.31. In the preliminary arrangements for this race, Ford Greet, who was riding one of the mules, and es deavoring to familiarize the unimal to the use of the spur, was thrown to the ground by the indignant son of a donkey, de-which followed, was a very pleasing feature of the day's doings, both companies showing great proficiency.

The whoelbarrow race, 56 yards, in things in the room a little with smake, which there were four cutries, was won Knocker Down and Rouger. This which there were four entries, was won

The half-mile slow race brought four horses to the scratch, and was won by Gray Frank, owned by Gillespie, in 1:46. The winning horse came la amid a regufor thundergust of cheers.
